Vice-President P. Jungman was elected President; Judge H. E. Haass was elected Vice-President; and Marvin Schweers succeeded Mr. Merriman as Secretary-Treasurer.

This course consists of Rhythmic Training, Games, Songs, Dances and Music Notation, and prepares the child for any instrument he may desire to study in the future. ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

"Have I not commanded thee? Be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." Joshua 1: 9. That is God's Word to one of His servants. It is fitting for us to start out a new period of life. In weakness, in cowardice there is most certain failure. Fear loses half the battle. Have we not reason for being courageous? The Lord is with us.

It is in this spirit that we wish to enter a new year of church work. To all our members and friends, we would solemnly point to the experience of Joshua, with whom God kept His word. Let this be the keynote of our annual congregation meeting: The Lord Thy God is with thee. This meeting will be held on next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All members should deem it their privilege to join in the business of the Lord. To those who serve Him God says: I will be with thee.

The Luther League will meet on Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Mr. Milton Mechler is leader of the topic: "Know Right and Wrong".

Our morning service next Sunday will be held in the German language beginning at 10:30. The Sunday school hour will begin at the usual regular time, 9:15.

EX-PRESIDENT COOLIDGE DEAD.

Radio listeners here early in the afternoon of yesterday learned of the death at his home in Vermont of Ex-President Calvin Coolidge which occurred suddenly at about noon.

The world will sincerely mourn the passing of this sane, conservative man whose wise counsel is sorely needed by his country now.

We do job printing.

ANNUAL WATCH PARTY.

The members of the Thursday Bridge Club enjoyed their annual watch party and bridge, New Year's Eve, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Heath. The holiday spirit permeated the lovely home, with its decorations of poinsettias, a tiny scintillating Christmas tree and lighted Christmas tapers in silver candelabra.

In the dining room, where a buffet supper was served, the lace covered table was the center of interest with its centerpiece of a miniature Christmas tree, and red candles burning in silver holders. Mrs. T. B. Knopp and Mrs. Earl Starnes alternated in presiding over the silver coffee service.

Bridge was played until the advent of the New Year, when prizes were awarded Mrs. T. B. Knopp and Dr. O. B. Taylor for high scores and Mrs. L. J. Brucks and Mr. Horace Bradley for low.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Knopp, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Meyer, Judge and Mrs. L. J. Brucks, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Starnes, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Heath, Miss Anne Davis and Dr. O. B. Taylor.

W. M. S. MEETS.

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. W. Merrill. A nice attendance was on hand to carry out the regular monthly Mission program. The Christmas motif was evident in the refreshments and decorations. All seemed to have a good time. The New Year is before us so "Let's Launch out into the Deep and Cast down our Nets".

BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Hy. Merriman's Christmas party, Wednesday afternoon, honoring her bridge club and a few guests, was a distinctive affair; with the spirit of the holiday season woven throughout the details. Yuletide motifs allowed introduction of bright color scheme in all bridge accessories.

Autumn leaves, red berries, poinsettias, holly and miniature Christmas trees hung with tiny silver icicles and gaily colored ornaments gave a soft glow to the reception suite.

After several interesting games of bridge, the guests were handed sheets of paper, bearing the words: "Christmas Cheer". From this a word building contest ensued. Mrs. Barnitz Carle and Mrs. T. B. Knopp were presented with lovely gifts as winners of the contest.

As Mrs. Merriman extended the entertainment, the party was ushered into the sun room, where a tall brilliantly decorated cedar tree stood holding gifts for each of the guests. And for the festive climax the guests were seated in the dining room at small attractively appointed tables, having tall lighted red tapers as center decoration. A most delicious holiday lunch was served. Place cards named the following guests: Mesdames R. J. Reilly, R. W. Speece, Thos. B. Knopp, Garland Martin, Thos. B. Holloway, Elsie Worden, Will Crow and Barnitz Carle.

BAPTIST AFFAIRS.

Sunday—New Year's Day—was rather "bitter cold" for church going. Quite a few of our congregation were out, and in fine spirits; and yet quite a few others either found it too cold or did not regard the worship of God on this first day of the year as being important. Those who were present seemed deeply interested in Pastor's New Year message. For special reason, the night service was dismissed. For the year ahead, we are to have a series of studies in the life of our Lord, as contained in the Gospel of Mark. Every person who appreciates divine revelation at all, will engage regularly in these studies. Why not every member of the church, join the Bible school in old time dead earnestness, so as to have self-respect, as a follower of the Christ? "The Lord God is a Sun and a shield; he will give Grace and glory, and no good thing will he withhold from them who walk uprightly", will be the text for the Pastor's morning address. It is hoped something may be done to make the house more comfortable, on cold mornings.

At the night service, our Junior young people, under the leadership of Miss Emma Buss, will give us a brief program, followed by an address from the Pastor. It is hoped that we may all begin to take a forward and upward look for the things which make for righteousness, during this year 1933. Think of this: "While ten millions of Americans are starving, our national law makers are spending $5,000 a day discussing the best possible method to bring back the worst curse ever imposed upon the poor—beer and wine. What a colossal farce before intelligent mankind".

Paul declares that no drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of God. In the light of his description of the effect of intemperance on character we see that the exclusion of the drunkard from the kingdom is not an arbitrary fiat. It is the inevitable sequence of the effect of his sin upon himself. He can not inherit the kingdom because he has destroyed his capacity of response to the kingdom. He has extirpated from his own soul those susceptibilities to which the good appeals and of which it takes hold. In the light of Paul's description we gain a more vivid impression of the evils of intemperance than we get from any account of the loss of money, of friends or station that follows in the train of the habit. Its worst effect is spiritual. It disintegrates, corrodes and rots the very substance of the soul itself. It destroys the capacity of repentance and faith and a new life. "The one thing which America does not need is liquor, in any form."

Come to the Baptist church on next Sunday.

The Pastor.

Mrs. H. A. Schweers of Hondo spent Monday and Tuesday visiting Mrs. J. W. Wentworth. Mrs. Wentworth and daughters, Alice and Margaret, and Mrs. Grady Ray accompanied Mrs. Schweers home Wednesday and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Richter of Hondo.—Uvalde Leader News.

The Managing Editor on last Monday enjoyed a treat such as has come but few times to him since leaving his boyhood Mississippi home more than 37 years ago. It was his privilege to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Kelley, but recently arrived from Mississippi and who are now at home with Mr. Kelly's son and family in San Antonio. Mr. Kelley and the M. E. are cousins, several times removed, tracing their lineage back along one branch to a common ancestor of the North Carolina Scottish clan of Lockharts—before-the-Revolutionary War settlers in the old North State. And Mrs. Kelley, remembered by him only as a young girl, Katie Gardner, was the daughter of a near neighbor and a former school mate in the long ago. Many old memories were lived over during the all too brief visit and more would have been recalled but each one had so many questions to ask the other that often one question was met by another instead of an answer and the time slipped away all too soon. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley expect to be in Texas for an indefinite period and promised to visit us in Hondo some time.

This paper is informed that considerable difficulty is being encountered in the effort to finance the Chamber of Commerce activities for 1933, due to the depression. This may force a revision of the Chamber's program which has worked so satisfactorily for a number of years, but Hondo can ill-afford to drop it all which would mean no street lights, no night watchman and the town left an easy prey to night marauders. Think seriously on these things before turning the proposition down entirely.

Burglars for the steenth (?) time recently raided LaCoste Wednesday night, and Sheriff Schuehle was busy Thursday investigating. It begins to look like some towns will have to organize a vigilance committee, arm them with shot guns and train them in a system of burglar alarms. It is too late after the rascals have made their getaway.

J. D. Hueschen was a caller at this office Wednesday and advanced the dates of his son Louis' paper another notch. Mr. Hueschen says with the short crops and low prices for farm products times are tight with the farmers, and there is no denying that fact. Let us hope and plan and work for better times in 1933.

John Trageser, the proprietor of the popular Electric Park Amusement grounds at Castroville, was a business visitor to Hondo Tuesday and paid our office an appreciated call while here. Mr. Trageser is hopeful that 1933 will see a marked improvement in business conditions.

Mrs. J. W. Holloway has returned from a visit with her son, A. G., and family in San Antonio. Friends here will regret to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. A. G. Holloway. She was stricken with pneumonia and is in a San Antonio hospital.

Sauter. The old Jungman ranch is located in the Chicon near the lake that bears this name; and the family is one of the most prominent in the county. Deceased had lived on his own farm near Devine, rearing a large family, two sons serving in the World War, and one passing away two years ago from troubles contracted while in service. The funeral was very large and the floral offerings beautiful and many. The pall bearers were Joseph Schmidt, Henry Bendele, Sr., Aug. Schott, Sr., Frank Rihn, Robert Neatherlin and Paul Ehlinger.

Deceased was known as an honest, law-abiding citizen, who loved his church and measured his deeds by the golden rule of doing unto others as he wished them to do unto him. The world is better off by his having lived and poorer because of his going. The News joins the many relatives and friends in sympathy.—The Devine News.
